

KNOWLEDGE IS UPTIME

No one needs to tell you how bad downtime is. You know all about how data center disruptions cause loss of revenue, unhappy customers and a crippled workplace. And you know that the best way to keep that from happening is to be on top of what's going on in that center.

That's why the Eler[™] Monitoring System delivers a single, concise platform for monitoring and management of the critical systems that support your data center operations. Built to manage mission critical operations, Eler[™] comes to you from Evolve, a leader in Data Center design, build, operations, and maintenance.

NOTIFICATIONS

Dynamic, instant notifications assure that key personnel are informed of any abnormal conditions. The Eler[™] notifications provide personnel with the information they need to verify and correct environmental conditions before the problem escalates and causes failure.

DATA TRENDING

With all of this diagnostic data in once place, Eler[™] compiles trends and histories for equipment and environment allowing you to easily catch the devil in the details and head off failures before they happen.

Eler[™] supports a full range of facility equipment including switch gear, power generators, fuel management systems, power transfer switches, uninterruptible power supplies, power distribution units, branch circuit monitoring, air conditioning systems and equipment, environmental monitoring and third party monitoring of fire, security and building control systems.

DATA CENTER STATUS AT A GLANCE

The Eler[™] console can be accessed directly, from any workstation or over the internet. Each installation of Eler[™] is customized for your business' needs with your data center's specific layout, sensor and equipment placement. Eler[™] can be tailored for your needs with personalized data trending, alert notifications and even custom response instruction printouts so your personnel will always know the correct procedure.
